

Conditions for Using Our Website

Our website is a vehicle for promoting the services we offer. A variety of intellectual property rights are used on this site including our logos and trademarks, the design, text, and graphics, as well as the software used in association with this site and other sites we own and operate.

Users are not authorized to copy or use any images on our site without our approval or consent. By using our website, you agree to these terms. We have the right to change these conditions from time to time so please check back regularly for updates.

By using our website, you also agree not to:

- Use it for unlawful or illegal means
- For spam
- Degrade or harass another person with the intent to harm or abuse them
- Invade someone else's privacy
- Steal or tamper with any information presented on our website
- Monitor or copy this website or it's content

By freely interacting with our site and others we own and operate, you allow us the permission to use this ¹content for any media worldwide, for marketing, research, and promotional use, free of charge. You still obtain ownership of the content and can use it as you see fit.

As a user, you are not to provide content that is harmful, misleading, defamatory, or widely offensive to our audience. You are also not allowed to publish private content that may violate a contractual agreement or any other rights. You must not provide content embedded with a code that might potentially damage or interfere with our ability to do business on our website and those we manage.

If you do not agree with these terms, please do not provide user content on our site. We reserve the right to reject your user information and remove your content at any time, for any reason.

We are not held liable for the following during the use of our website:

- If you encounter a problem while using our site
- That your computer or server is free from viruses or harmful software

As the owner of this website, we are in no way liable for loss of profits, business, savings, goodwill, or use of corrupt information. We are not liable for losses suffered from negligence or misinterpretation from the content on our website. We are also not held liable for losses in relation to incidents outside of our control when it comes to our website and those we manage, it's functionality and its operations.
